Business Club Dinner Splendid Social Affair

Over Ninety Guests Enjoy Chicken Dinner And Entertainers

Over ninety guests were in attendance at the business club dinner at the Blue Willow Inn on Monday night to enjoy a chicken dinner and a wonderful evening's entertainment. The business men were proud of the affair as it was the annual ladies' night of the season.

After serving a splendidly arranged chicken dinner, President R. C. Aht called on Miss Valletta Hanneman, celebrated musician, of Chicago, to give some selections on the piano which were well appreciated by all present.

Was Antioch Girl.

Most everyone present remembered Miss Hanneman as she was a former Antioch girl, having followed her in her music as she was first located at Burlington, Wis., later making trips in the east and abroad in perfecting her talent of music.

Miss Hanneman has had the privilege of being heard over W. H. T. Chicago, broadcasting station and has given many recitals. In her work she is accompanied by Miss Helen Raub, of W. H. T. studio force.

It was a splendid opportunity in having Miss Hanneman appear before Antioch friends on Monday evening giving her musical talent.

After Miss Hanneman's appearance, Mr. Charles Hitchcock, of Lake Bluff, was introduced as an after dinner entertainer, most everyone there will agree that he filled the bill. It was Mr. Hitchcock's first appearance in Antioch and it might be said that the guests present had a great privilege bestowed on them in hearing an entertainer of this type who has appeared before some of the biggest men in the country at banquets, social functions of the highest type having had Mr. Hitchcock at their dinners.

In closing the dinner hour with a few selections by Miss Hanneman the guests were heard to remark that the affair was the biggest of the season and would be pleased to have many more such gatherings.

Woman's Club Making an Appeal

"Buy-A-Book" Plan To Be Real Service to Antioch Children.

The "Buy-A-Book" plan is the way the Woman's Club hopes to fulfill its promise of a gift of fifty or a hundred books to the children of Antioch.

To the parents who usually give a book to their children at Christmas time, we want to say "why not buy a book and donate it to the Public Library where it will be read by lots of children, instead of being tucked away in your private bookcase after a week or two."

To those who have no children, we say, "what better gift for any child could you plan to give than one which all of our village children can enjoy."

We have a list of books especially prepared for us and these are priced from seventy-five cents to two dollars each. These books we would like to add to our library, and all we ask is that you call Mrs. Matthews or Mrs. Warriner and tell them you wish to buy a book. This list will then be presented to you and you may pick out any title you wish. The books will then be purchased and a Christmas seal will be placed in each book stating that it is a gift to the children of Antioch from who ever has chosen that book on the list.

To our Chicago friends and friends of Antioch all over our country, we extend an invitation to help us out with this "Buy-A-Book" campaign, assuring you of our sincere appreciation of any aid you may give us.

PRICES REMAIN GOOD FOR QUALITY GRAPES

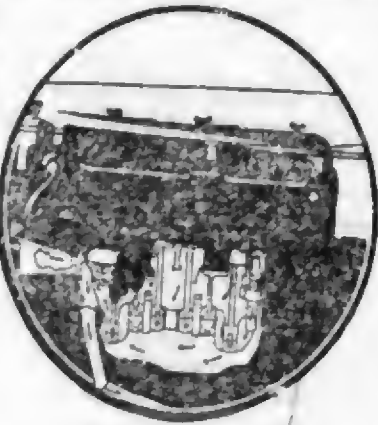

Although the price level for Illinois grapes this year was somewhat below what it was last year, clean, well-grown fruit of good quality, attractively packed, sold at a good profit to growers who paid some attention to marketing. A. S. Colby, associate chief of pomology at the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, says: "Profitable crops, however, were not harvested in vineyards that were not properly cared for, he added.

"In such vineyards the control of insects and diseases through spraying, clean culture and sanitation was a highly important need during the growing season just closed.

"Grape leaf hoppers were especially abundant this season. They make the leaves dry up and die early, thus sapping the vigor of the vine and lowering the quality of the fruit. If leaf hoppers are to be controlled it is necessary to burn headlands, fence corners and other waste places near the vineyards where the leaf hoppers hibernate. This burning should be done at once.

"A further precaution is the growing of a vineyard cover crop which stays green throughout the dormant season. This is important, since the hoppers hibernate in the weeds and grasses which die in the fall. The planting of raspberries and strawberries near grapes should be avoided when possible since the hoppers feed upon the leaves of these plants before the grape leaves expand in the spring. Last, but most important in hopper control, is the application of a contact spray, such as nicotine sulphate. The spray must touch the body of each insect and therefore must be put on before the nymph develops wings.

"The grape root worm this year has weakened many grape vines, especially of susceptible varieties like

No Engine Fumes in Buick Closed Cars!

In the 1927 Buick, the new Vacuum Ventilator pulls engine fumes and gases from the crankcase and ejects them outside the car.

This vital new Buick improvement does away with noxious fumes. It adds greater luxury and pleasure to enclosed car operation.

The Vacuum Ventilator serves another very important purpose. With it, crankcase vapors have no opportunity to condense and dilute the oil. Owners of 1927 Buicks are advised to drain their crankcase oil only 4 times during the year.

"The grape berry moth, phylloxera, which is a tiny root louse, and black rot and the mildews are other vineyard pests which must be given more attention another year if the most profitable crops are to be harvested."

Wilmot News

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rudolph returned from Chicago Tuesday. Raymond has been a patient at the West Side Hospital for the past two weeks where he underwent an operation for appendicitis.

The Fred Semrau Post No. 361 of the American Legion had a very successful dance at the Trevor hall last Saturday night. They have scheduled a dance for December eleventh and another for December twenty-fifth at the Trevor Hall. Miller's orchestra from Woodstock is to play at both. This orchestra was never better than at the present time and is drawing excellent crowds for all the Legion affairs.

The next meeting of the Fred Semrau Post will be on December twenty-first at the Legion Hall in Wilmot. The December seventh meeting was postponed for so many of the Legion boys expect to be in Kenosha on that date to greet Commander Savage.

The farm house on the Jacob Kroncke farm south of the village, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Elbert, was discovered on fire by Mr. and Mrs. John Coaman, of North Brook, Sunday afternoon, November 21st. Mr. and Mrs. Elbert were away and the fire had such a start before it was noticed that it was impossible to save the house or anything in it. The building, owned by Mr. Kroncke, was insured, but the furnishings belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Elbert were not, and were a total loss. Mr. and Mrs. Elbert are living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Harm and Mr. Elbert is running the farm from there. Mr. Kroncke expects to rebuild the farm home in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Stoxen entertained forty-four at a family dinner Thanksgiving. All of their seventeen children were present but one daughter. Three son-in-laws were also absent. Other guests besides their children and grandchildren were Mr. and Mrs. Homer Cook, Mrs. Laura Cook and Mrs. Arthur Powers, all of Waukegan.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Hegeman entertained at a family dinner on Thanksgiving.

Funeral services for Gwendolyn Newell were held at the M. E. church Sunday afternoon with Rev. Oscar Holt, of Salem, officiating. The services were largely attended and members of her Fifth Grade Class at the Wilmot School and of the M. E. Sunday school class formed a guard of honor beside the casket. Active bearers were Leroy and Winsor Madden, Lyle McDougall, Kermit Schreck, Earl Blood and Eugene Frank.

Mrs. Guy Loftus was soloist and sang three selections: Home of the Soul, Safe in The Arms of Jesus, and Sometime We Will Understand.

Gwendolyn Faye Newell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Newell, was born in the town of Fairfield near Baraboo, Wis., May 2, 1916, and passed to her eternal rest at Kenosha, Wis., in the late afternoon of Nov. 25, 1926, at the age of ten years, six months and 23 days. At the age of two years she came with her parents to this vicinity where they have since made their home.

She is survived by her parents and four sisters: Viola, Zona, Beatrice and Joyce, all of this village; two grandmothers, Mrs. A. J. Newell and Mrs. E. A. Webster, of Baraboo; and many other relatives all residing at or near Baraboo.

U. F. H. School Notes

The annual school board faculty banquet of the high school was held Tuesday, November 22nd, at five o'clock. The room was prettily decorated in orange and black, with appropriate table novelties for Thanksgiving. A well planned dinner was served by the domestic science department. Much credit is due Miss Peterson and the girls who were hostesses at the affair.

"Clean Up Week" was a decided success in every way. Members of the civics class, who engineered the movements, succeeded in bringing to light many easy ways of improving the looks of the building, and the personal appearance of the students. It is hoped that these ideas will now be continued.

Fred Forster, a senior, presented a very interesting topic to the physics class on Einstein last Wednesday morning. The topic was given voluntarily and only after a long period of intensive study, and Fred is to be congratulated upon his work on a very difficult subject.

NASH

Car Value

Great Events in Motor Car History

The 3 or 4 Bearing Crankshaft is now obsolete in Nash engineering practice

Here's something of real importance for every prospective buyer of a SIX to think about—
—if you buy a new car now that still has the old-type crankshaft with only 3 or 4 bearings, what is going to happen to its resale value?

Manufacturers who still cling to the 3 or 4 bearing crankshaft design know just as well as you do that the MODERN crankshaft has 7 bearings.

And certainly with Nash setting the pace they are not likely to hold to the old style of design any longer than they are compelled to under their manufacturing conditions.

The authority of Nash engineering submits to your own good judgment that the motor with a 3 or 4 bearing crankshaft cannot be called a truly modern type of motor.

Weds Impostor as Old Friend; Seeks Divorce

New York.—She thought she was marrying a sweetheart of schooldays, but has learned her husband is an entirely different person, who kept his real identity a secret, Marton Wien, twenty-four, Newark, N. J., declared in a suit brought in Chancery court to have her marriage annulled.

Ten years ago, Miss Wien set forth, she was a pupil in St. John's parochial school. Among the pupils was a boy named Cyril Devine. When graduated, she says in her petition, she lost all track of Cyril.

Then one day in June, 1924, as she sat at the window of her father's store, a man sought the shelter of the awning outside during a shower. She invited him in, thinking he was Cyril Devine. She called him Cyril Devine and he accepted the name. The supposedly renewed acquaintanceship led to marriage January 6, 1925.

Dogs Fight Policeman, Guard Dying Master

Milwaukee.—Standing on guard over their dying master, two hounds fought off police for some time and refused admittance to others who endeavored to administer aid to the suffering man.

The dogs' master, David Hughes, eighty-six, died at Emergency hospital from heart disease an hour after he had been taken from his faithful guardians.

Having been forced to retreat, both animals lay on Hughes' body, but were finally driven off and their master taken to the hospital. It was evident that both animals had been suffering from hunger and thirst for some time.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"ANCIENT AND MODERN NECHROMANCY, ALIAS MESMERISM AND HYPNOTISM, DENOUNCED" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, November 28.

The Golden Text was from I John 4:1. "Beloved, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God; because many false prophets are gone out into the world."

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Then was brought unto him one possessed with a devil, blind, and dumb: and he healed him, insomuch that the blind and dumb both spake and saw. And all the people were amazed, and said, Is not this the son of David? But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, This fellow doth not cast out devils, but by Beelzebub the prince of the devils. And Jesus knew their thoughts and said unto them, . . . And if I by Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom do your children cast them out? therefore they shall be your judges. But if I cast out devils by the Spirit of God, then the Kingdom of God is come unto you" (Matthew 12:22-24, 25, 27, 28).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Human will-power is not Science. . . . Willing the sick to recover is not the metaphysical practice of Christian Science, but is sheer natural magnetism. . . . Truth, and not corporeal will, is the divine power which cures disease, 'Peace, be still'" (p. 111).

Anglo-Saxon
The words beginning with "k," knot, knee, know, knife are Anglo-Saxon derivatives. Originally the initial letter was pronounced "c" as in "knight." As late as Chaucer's day, the word "knight" was pronounced as if spelled "kneht."

A writer says: "In Palestine, the sun seems to leap over the horizon at daybreak. There is no long period of dawn with increasing light. Like a fiery chariot the sun springs forth from the darkness, and it is more."

Locks that are stiff and hard to turn should be oiled with a feather dipped in good machine oil. Insert the feather through the keyhole and twist from side to side. This oils the parts and loosens dirt.

St. Ignatius' Church Notes
Episcopal

Calendar
9:30 Church School.
10:30 Matins and Sermon.
7:30 Vespers and Sermon by visiting Preacher.

The visit of the Bishop to our Parish was indeed a source of inspiration and of renewed consecration to Christ and His Church. We remember the words of St. Ignatius: "Do nothing without the Bishop" and the words of St. Cyprian: "without the Bishop there is no Church." The Bishop has given us a new vision of our task to witness for the ideals of the Lord Jesus and His Love in our own lives.

Over 200 heard the Bishop at the various services and all were pleased with his personality and Christ-like character.
Last Sunday we had the Corporate Communion of the Confirmation class at 7 a. m. in the morning. There was very little light in the church except the steady flicker of the candles and one might have easily pictured the scene as that of the early Christians in the catacombs of old Rome where the early Christians celebrated the Sacred Mysteries of their religion in danger of their lives.

The Agape was celebrated by the members of the class after their Communion. The Agape means feast of love and is the material meal as related to the spiritual meal of the Eucharist representing Christ's Divine and Human Natures. This Sunday the "Confirmation Lectures" will continue the subject being "The Blessed Sacrament." In the evening there will be a special Advent Service, Vespers with a sermon by a visiting clergyman. It is hoped that as many of the members of Gamma Kappa Delta may attend and remember the first of the three principles of their Order, Worship, Fellowship and Service.

Methodist Notes

The increased attendance at morning worship is significant of the type of services now had at the church. Many are finding the service a real joy and a comfort as well as a source of inspiration. The young people's worship is growing more popular, especially the children's service which precedes the regular preaching service. The service next Sunday will begin at 10:45.

The evening service at 7:30 is attracting much attention, especially that part dealing with the history of the hymns.

The Epworth League group met last Sunday to discuss the type of meeting they thought most profitable. It was decided to meet again next Sunday at 6:30 p. m. to organize and for election of officers. All young people between the ages of 11 and 21 are most cordially welcome.

A goodly number of Antioch folks are finding much joy at the school of religious education held at Fox Lake each Friday. The school is open to all interested in church school methods. Mr. Richards will be glad to provide the means of transportation for any who wish to attend.

The Young People of the church co-operating with the pastor put on a very interesting series of Sunday evening meetings. The attendance increased to over one hundred percent.

Plans are on the way to have something worth while at the church every Sunday evening. We invite the co-operation of every one in the community.

The church has been without a choir for some time previous to the coming of the new pastor. A group of young people volunteered to lead the singing Sunday morning which they did in a very acceptable manner.

Miss Gladys Williamson and Mr. Theodore Messier were happily united in marriage at the parsonage Thanksgiving evening by the Rev. R. J. McKelvey.

COLLAPSIBLE FORMS WILL LOWER SEPTIC TANK COST

Farmers who have installed the U. of I. two-chamber septic tank as part of a system of home conveniences have been able to save from $10 to $15 on the cost of the tank installation by using collapsible forms rather than the ordinary ones, according to F. P. Hanson, farm mechanics extension specialist of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

The tank is the same size regardless of whether the form is collapsible or not, for the saving comes in using the same form a good many times. Collapsible forms have been used as many as 25 times, and with any care at all they should last for at least ten times, Hanson said.

Collapsible septic tank forms may now be secured from farm and home bureaus in eight Illinois counties, including Hancock, Adams, Henry, Bureau, LaSalle, Coles, Marshall and Putnam. Because of the interest in the use of septic tanks instead of cesspools for sewage disposal, the number of counties having forms available for a reasonable rental charge is expected to increase, Hanson pointed out.

"Another advantage of the collapsible forms is that the user does not need to worry and spend time looking for plans and recommendations regarding the size, shape and capacity of tanks, as well as details for building the forms. When the form is rented all this worry and lost time is done away with."

"Farmers interested in farm sewage disposal would do well to consider first the advantage of the septic tank over the cesspool and then find out if a collapsible form can be secured. If one is not available in the county it often will pay to build the collapsible form with the good chance of renting or selling it to another person. Of course, the more the form is used the less the cost of each year."

Railroads Use Trees

Railroads use about 130,000,000 new wood ties every year. There are 3,000 ties under every mile of track. We have to cut 5,000,000 trees every year to maintain telephone and telegraph wires, says the American Tree association of Washington. You know the size of the telegraph pole and you know that it has taken the tree that provided it a long time to grow.

1926 Again Chevrolet's Greatest Year

In 1925 Chevrolet astonished the automotive world by attaining an annual production never before reached by any manufacturer of gearshift automobiles. Yet, so spectacular has been the increase in demand for Chevrolet cars, that a new and even more brilliant record is the climax for 1926.

Thus, for two years in succession, Chevrolet has broken all its previous records and has set a new mark in automotive history.

This splendid achievement results from a steadfast adherence to the fundamental Chevrolet policy of building a car of the finest possible quality to sell at a low price.

That the vast majority of buyers now demand a car of this type—and that Chevrolet has been successful in building such a car—possessing the highest degree of smooth performance, smart appearance, and economical operation—is proved by Chevrolet's success during the year now drawing to a close. Come in and see this record-breaking car.

BADGERS SELDOM SEE MUCH MONEY

Gridders Working Their Way Through School.

A short study of the financial status of University of Wisconsin football men proves that badger athletes do not exclude the poor boy in preference to the rich man's son. Sixty-three per cent of the 1926 football squad are boys who work their way through school, either entirely or partially.

Among this group of self-supporting students are the star performers of Coach Little's team, with three or four exceptions. They are the men who will be called upon to spend hours of strenuous drilling this fall and next spring in the moleskins, in the meantime utilizing every spare moment eking out an existence and bearing down on their scholastic work.

On this list of Wisconsin's warriors working their way in order to secure an education and compete in athletics appear Barnum, Kreuz, Mansfield, Wilke, Wagner, Larson, Van Bremer, Leif, Cameron, Crofoot, Rose, Kresge, Ridders, Engleke, and so on.

Several of the above mentioned are competing in other sports which taxes them to the limit the year around. The work that these fighting badgers are doing is of a varied nature. Some are waiting on tables, others washing dishes, while a few care for furnaces and shovel snow. All the jobs require steady application and are secured through student employment agencies. Checking in retail stores, chauffeuring, truck driving, and many other occupations offer the needed opportunity for the boys who seek financial aid.

Coach Knute Rockne Is After New Triumvirate

With schedule pickings threatening the capture of football's "Big Three"—Yale, Harvard and Princeton Knute Rockne, cunning craftsman of Notre Dame gridiron fortunes, has sought to form another triumvirate, Army, Navy and Notre Dame.

The announcement at Baltimore of the negotiation of a two-year contract between the Navy and Notre Dame which definitely anchored the Mid-dies, was the third cornerstone of what may develop into the game's outstanding triangular rivalry.

Army has met Notre Dame for 14 years. With this annual contest already one of football's annual headliners, its augmentation in importance by the addition of the Navy can scarcely be estimated.

The 1927 season would see the inaugural contests in this three-cornered schedule arrangement, with two of the games in the East and one in the Central West. Notre Dame will travel on October 15, next year, to Baltimore, for its first engagement with the Navy, and the Army has been invited to Soldiers' field, Chicago, for the 1927 game.
